

e Commerce Shopping!

Written by Administrator

If your needs for an online presence includes e Commerce, I've got you covered there as well. Because of the advanced experience I have with Joomla, I also have a wealth of experience with the e Commerce component Virtuemart. Virtuemart is not a stand alone shopping solution though and needs Joomla to be installed on your server if you want to use it's powerful and advanced features.

If a stand alone e Commerce solution is what you need, we can work with many of the most popular open source shopping carts as well. This means that no matter what your e Commerce needs are, we can get the job done, and not only get the job done, but quickly and at a price that most developers with my level of experience can't even come close to.
